INDEX TO VOLUME CXLII.

Abbott. Report of a few cases of insanity treated by the cold pack, 164, 197.

Abbott, A. C. Relative infrequency of acute transmissible diseases during the first year of childhood, with a discussion of the probable reasons for the same, 543.

Abbott, S. W. Sixteen years' experience in food and drug inspection, 82; progress in public hygiene, 330, 356, 380, 432.

Abdomen. On the advisability of a more or less general exploration of the abdomen when it has been opened for an operation, Homans, J., 189; remarks on the influence of technique upon the results of closure of wounds of the abdominal wall, Noble, C. P., 237, 256; a case of acute general peritonitis, operation, recovery, Mumford, J. G., 301; gunshot wound of the abdomen, with multiple wounds of the intestine, Lothrop, H. A., 405, 413.

Actinomycosis. The organism and lesions of actinomycosis, Wright, J. H., 545.

Addison's Disease. Case of Addison's disease under treatment with suprarenal extract, Johnston, W. W., 549.

Africa. The wounded in South Africa, 95; military surgery in South Africa, 118; the war in South Africa, Treves, F., 151; expense of medical consultants in South Africa, 343.

Alcohol. The controversy as to the nutritive value of alcohol, 258; alcohol in the tropics, 672.

Allis, O. H. Dislocations of the hip, demonstration on the cadaver illustrative of their mechanism, 606.

Allis's method of reducing a dislocation of the hip, Warren, J. C., 40.

Amputation. A case of Chopart's amputation, with tendon implantation and tenotomy, Mumford, J. G., 301.

Anders, J. M. The diagnostic value of tuberculin in tuberculosis, 573.

Anemia. Anemia and other diseases in Puerto Rico, 393; some of the conclusions arrived at after a study of 110 cases of pernicious anemia, Cabot, R. C., 546; a report of cases of pernicious anemia, with a special reference to the blood findings, Billings, F., 546; clinical notes on cases of pernicious anemia, Henry, F. P., 546.

Angiotribe. The use of the angiotribe, Goffe, J. R., 373.

Animals. Adaptation of pathogenic bacteria to different species of animals, Smith, T., 473.

Anopheles and malaria, Celli, 261.

Appendicitis. Appendicitis in a hernial sac, Tenney, B., 4, 12; the attitude of the physician and surgeon to appendicular symptoms complicating typhoid fever, Hare, H. A., 550; observations on appendicitis, Van Gieson, I., 550.

Argentina. Heat in Argentina, 394.

Army. The best diet for the tropics, the army ration, 47; report of the Surgeon-General of the Army, 118; acting assistant surgeons in the Philippines, 178; contract surgeons, 416; the ideal ration for an army in the tropics, Munson, E. L., 463, 489, 501, 534.

Athens. Hydrophobia in Athens, 314.

Atwood, C. A. A pistol wound of the abdomen, 39.

Austin, A. E. A method of determining the digestive power of gastric juice as well as the absorptive power of the stomach, 246.

Bacillus. Varieties of the diphtheria bacillus, Westbrook, F. F., 548; clinical report of cases of infection due to the bacillus aërogenes capsulatus of Welch, Thorndike, P., 592; report of cases in which the bacillus aërogenes capsulatus was found, Pratt, J. H., and Fulton, F. T., 599.

Bacteria. Adaptation of pathogenic bacteria to different species of animals, Smith, T., 473; bacteriotherapeutics, with especial reference to tuberculosis, Baldwin, E. R., 477; the relation of bacteriology to medicine, Cabot, R. C., 479; bacteria and the buried animal body, 578.

Baldwin, E. R. Bacteriotherapeutics, with especial reference to tuberculosis, 477.

Baldwin, H. C. The work of the trustees of the Boston Insane Hospital and their plans for its future development, 379, 383.

Baldwin, L. G. Malignancy in the female genito-urinary system, 66.

Bartlett, E. A Rhode Island philosopher, Osler, W., 49, 77.

Barton, J. M. Fractures of the patella, 698.

Beach, H. H. A. Anatomical specimens, 11; intestinal obstruction, 110.

Beck, C. Surgical errors in skiagraphy, 666.

Bell, A. N. Stamina, the special benefit of fats of one kind or another as a necessary article of diet to fortify the system against tubercle bacilli, 574.

Bequests. The dispersion of bequests, 94.

Bernays, A. C. On ischemic paralysis and contracture of muscles, 539.

Bevan, A. D. Unreduced and irreducible dislocations, 698.

Bibliography. Ashby, H., the diseases of children, medical and surgical, 701; Barker, L. F., the nervous system and its constituent neurones, 68; Bartholow, R., a practical treatise on materia medica and therapeutics, 93; Bradford, E. H., and Lovett, R. W., treatise on orthopedic surgery, 361; Brown, H., ringworm and some other scalp affections, their cause and cure, 521; Butler, G. F., a text-book of materia medica, therapeutics and pharmacology, 200; Cattell, H. W., international clinics, 551; Christison, J. S., brain in relation to mind, 257; Church, A., and Peterson, F., nervous and mental diseases, 116; Collins, H. D., and Rockwell, W. H., Collins's and Rockwell's physiology, 281; Corwin, A. M., essentials of physical diagnosis of the thorax, 281; Crockett, M. A., Crockett's gynecology, 230; cyclopedia of the diseases of children, medical and surgical, 69; Deaver, J. B., surgical anatomy: a treatise on human anatomy in its application to the practice of medicine and surgery, 117; Dudley, E. C., diseases of women, 147; Fitzgerald, J., pyorrhea alveolaris and its relation to general medicine, 146; Foxwell, A., the causation of functional heart murmurs, 438; Fullerton, A. M., surgical nursing, 281; Gillespie, A. L., a manual of modern gastric methods, chemical, physical and therapeutical, 338; Gould, G. M., the American year-book of medicine and surgery, 200; a pocket medical dictionary, 281; Gowers, W. R., a manual of diseases of the nervous system, 17; Gruenwald, L., atlas and abstract of the diseases of the larynx, 309; Haig, A., diet and food, 310; Hall, T. W., and Menzies, J. A., golden rules of physiology, 281; Hall, W. S., a text-book of physiology, 521; Harrison, E., home nursing, 362; Harrison, R., selected papers on stone, prostate and other urinary disorders, 93; Harvard University, annual report, 201; Head, G. P., and Andrews, A. H., the year-book of the nose, throat and ear, 338; Hewer, L., our baby, 701; Holland, J. W., the urine and the clinical chemistry of the gastric contents, the common poisons and milk, 310; Hughes, D. E., a compend of the practice of medicine, 362; Hyde, J. N., and Montgomery, F. H., a practical treatise on diseases of the skin for the use of students and practitioners, 551; international medical annual and practitioner's index, 438; Keen, W. W., and White, J. W., an American text-book of surgery for practitioners and students, 280; Keyes, E. L., and Chetwood, C. H., venereal diseases, 522; Knopf, S. A., prophylaxis and treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis, 437; Kyle, D. B., a text-book of the diseases of the nose and throat, 360; Lewis, W. B., a text-book of mental diseases, with special reference to the pathological aspects of insanity, 70; Lilienthal, H., imperative surgery for the general practitioner, the specialist and the recent graduate, 280; Longeway, M. L., the trained nurses' directory, 70; Lucas, J. J. S., Nordrach at home, or hygienic treatment of consumption, 310; Malsbary, G. E., practice of medicine, 362; Massachusetts State Board of Insanity, first report, 551; McKendrick, J. G., Herman Ludwig Ferdinand von Helmholtz, 229; Mills, C. K., the nervous system and its diseases, 17; Monro, T. K., Raynaud's disease (local syncope, local asphyxia, symmetrical gangrene), its history, causes, symptoms, morbid relations, pathology and treatment, 94; Moullin, C. M., enlargement of the prostate, its treatment and radical cure, 92; Netter, la peste et son microbe, 414; Park, W. H., bacteriology in medicine and surgery, 229; Pedley, R. D., the hygiene of the mouth, 117; Penrose, C. B., a text-book of diseases of women, 281; Phelps, E. S., loveliness, 172; Purrington, W. A., Christian Science, 338; Quebec, the fifth annual report of the Board of Health of the Province of Quebec, 361; Roberts, J. B., notes on the modern treatment of fractures, 281; Schweinitz, G. E. de, an American text-book of the diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, 92; Stedman, T. L., twentieth century practice, 171, 437; Talbot, E. S., interstitial gingivitis, or so-called pyorrhœa alveolaris, 171; Thorington, J., refraction and how to refract, 230; Truax, C., the mechanics of surgery, 280; Valentine, F. C., the irrigation treatment of gonorrhea, local complications and sequelæ, 609; Voswinkel, B. M., surgical nursing, 93; Warren, J. C., and Gould, A. P., the international text-book of surgery, 257; Watson, C., encyclopedia medica, 172; Watson, J. K., a hand-book for nurses, 575; Wharton, H. R., minor surgery and bandaging, 94; Ziegler, A., general pathology, 171.

Billings, F. A report of cases of pernicious anemia, with a special reference to the blood findings, 546.

Biography. Apostoli, 643; Arrowsmith, J. E., 76; Bagg, M. M., 528; Bailey, T. H., 316; Bartlett, E., 49, 77; Bartlett, G. P., 368; Beebe, A. A., 316; Beebe, C. E., 288; Bill, H. P., 288; Billings, A. J., 179; Birch-Hirschfeld, 441; Bird, J. S., 396; Bronson, J. R., 528; Carsen, W., 179; Clark, R., 469, Collins, C. S., 580; Conklin, G. H., 420; Cook, J. S., 76; Cooper, J., 368; Crane, J. J., 444; Creamer, J. M., 236; Edwards, A. M., 643; Ellis, G. V., 643; Fitzsimmons, T. D., 179; Forman, S. R., 260; French, G. M., 236; Garrison, S. O., 444; Gehring, F. H., 76; Gibier, P., 645; Graves, F. W., 288; Gray, L. C., 527; Hall, M. W., 76; Hammond, W. A., 44; Harrington, J. C., 444; Harris, R., 344; Hassie, T. B., 444; Hastings, W. H. H., 208, 234, 314; Helmholtz, H. L. F. von, 229; Hoffman, J. B., 344; Holmes, E. L., 208; Hopkins, W., 208; House, W. S., 124; Howard, B. D., 704; Howard, W. F., 704; Hubbard, O. P., 288; Kimball, F. D., 420; Kingsley, C., 48; Leonard, E. K., 674; Lindström, A. H.,

556; MacDonald, J., 580; Maclagan, A. D., 468; Malone, S., 20; Marsh, A., 154; Martin, E. F., 236; Mersereau, C. H., 528; Metcalf, E. G., 154; Morse, L. B., 580; Mivart, G., 364; O'Callaghan, T., 24; O'Hearn, W. H., 614; Otis, F. N., 579; Paget, J., 22, 24, 43; Peck, A. E., 288; Pennington, S. H., 316; Perkins, E. A., 236; Pettingill, F. H., 179; Pierce, G. C., 580; Pierson, W., 676; Plunkett, F. C., 153; Priestly, W. O., 417; Prince, C., 288; Richardson, A. P., 154; Rightmore, W. V., 179; Shakespeare, E. O., 614; Shaw, J. C., 124; Stackpole, P. A., 368; Stewart, T. G., 154; Stickler, J. W., Jr., 200; Storrs, M., 674; Vondy, J. H., 396; Voorhees, C. H., 556; Wamsley, W. E., 264; Warren, G. W., 528; Whistler, W. M., 316; Woodbridge, L. D., 46; William, C. C., 124; Winston, G. S., 24.

Blake, C. J. The sociological status of the physician, 482.

Blake, J. D. Tetanus treated with antitetanic serum, 699.

Blanchard, W. Rapid osteoclasis for the correction of rhachitic deformities of the legs, 664.

Blodgett, A. N. Lithiasis preputialis, 655.

Blood. The practical value of the white blood count in surgical cases, Hubbard, J. C., 409, 412; examination of the blood, its value to the general practitioner, Fussell, M. H., 638.

Boland, E. S. Idiopathic pneumohematothorax with recovery after aspiration, 321, 333.

Bonney, S. G. Some phases of the tuberculosis problem in Colorado, 572.

Bowditch, H. P. The medical school of the future, 445; Dr. Bowditch's address, 468.

Bowditch, V. Y. The Massachusetts State Hospital for Consumptives at Rutland; its purposes and the work accomplished during the first year, 127, 142.

Bowen, J. T. Report on dermatology, 193.

Bradford, E. H. Results of treatment of congenital dislocation of the hip, 630.

Bradford, E. H., and Brackett, E. G. Report on orthopedic surgery, 223.

Bradycardia, with intermittent albuminuria, Whitridge, A. H., 329.

Brewster, G. W. W. A case of intestinal obstruction from a hair-ball, 395.

Bridge, N. Some observations on human temperature in disease, 550.

Brothers, A. Some points in the diagnosis and management of cystitis in the female, 337.

Bryant, J. D. Malignant disease, 65.

Bullet. The "humane" bullet, 354.

Burns, W. B. Malarial hemoglobinuria, 668.

Burr, C. R. Intestinal digestion and its relation to pulmonary disease, 101.

Burr, C. W. The relations of chorea and rheumatism, 669.

Burrage, W. L. Abstract of paper on "further experience with the operative treatment of anteflexion," 241, 255; abdominal myomectomy, removal of eleven subperitoneal nodules and right ovary weighing together one and one-half pounds, 349; the conservative operative treatment of fibroids, report of three cases, 349, 358; vaginal myomectomy, removal of fibroid nodule three centimetres (one and one-fourth inches) by one and one-half centimetres (seven-eighths inch), of subperitoneal evolution from the front wall of the uterus by anterior colpotomy, 349; morcellation of submucous nodule at fundus and polyp with pedicle springing from fundus, 350.

Burrell, H. L. A personal experience in the teaching of surgery, 565, 568.

Cabot, A. T. Adhesions of the stomach, 606; realism in medicine, 615, 647.

Cabot, R. C. Some points suggested by the clinical study in one hundred and eighty-six cases of valvular heart disease, 106, 111; a second case of chronic cyanosis without assignable cause, 275; splenic pseudoleukemia, historical sketch, 421, 435; double extra-uterine pregnancy, 428; the relation of bacteriology to medicine, 479; some of the conclusions arrived at after a study of 110 cases of pernicious anemia, 546.

Camac, C. N. B. Hospital and ward clinical laboratories, 637.

Cannon, W. B. The case method of teaching systematic medicine, 31; the case system in medicine, 563, 568.

Cary, C. Degenerated echinococcus cyst of the pleura, 550.

Case method of teaching systematic medicine, Cannon, W. B., 31; the case method of teaching medicine, 42.

Cats. Sympathy for cats, 90.

Celli. Anopheles and malaria, 261.

Centenarian. A centenarian, Cummings, A. R., 207.

Chase, R. F. Bradycardia, with a report of a case, 130, 140.

Children. Three unusual cases of angioneurotic edema in infancy, Morse, J. L., 10; the proper seating of school children, 339; hair-eating children and convulsions, Lyon, F. D., 345; measurements of Boston school children, 526; relative infrequency of acute transmissible diseases during the first year of childhood, with a discussion of the probable reasons for the same, Abbott, A. C., 543; recurrent vomiting in children, Griffiths, J. B. C., 544; heart lesions in infancy, Jacobi, A., 571; exercises suitable for children suffering from heart disease, Taylor, J. M., 574.

Cholecystotomy. Cases of cholecystotomy, Garceau, E., 104.

Christian Science a menace to the public weal, 283, 285.

Circulatory System. Epistaxis, Cobb, F. C., 2, 12; the value of x-ray examinations in the less frequent diseases of the chest illustrated by their use in those cases where aneurism is present or suspected, Williams, F. H., 54, 85; some points suggested by the clinical study in one hundred and eighty-six cases of valvular heart disease, Cabot, R. C., 106, 111; bradycardia, with report of a case, Chase, R. F., 130; the clinical value of Oliver's hemocytometer, Scannell, D. D., 160; a second case of cyanosis without assignable cause, Cabot, R. C., 275; report on progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., and Bartol, J. W., 276, 302; bradycardia with intermittent albuminuria, Whitridge, A. H., 329; the practical value of the white blood count in surgical cases, Hubbard, J. C., 409, 412; cyanosis from congenital cardiac disease, Townsend, C. W., 426; venous thrombosis as a complication of cardiac disease, Welch, W. H., 549; aneurism of the aorta with rupture into the superior vena cava, recognized during life, Stengel, A., 550; minor forms of cardiac dilatation, Robinson, B., 550; heart lesions in infancy, Jacobi, A., 571; the blood changes in high altitudes, Solly, S. E., 574; a case of mural endocarditis, Williams, H., 574; exercises suitable for children suffering from heart disease, Taylor, J. M., 574; aneurism of heart, thrombosis of left coronary artery, Daland, J., 575; examination of the blood, its value to the general practitioner, Fussell, M. H., 638; rheumatism and the prevention of heart complications, Walsh, J. J., 669; heart in rheumatism, Rochester, Del., 669; a case of malignant endocarditis with recovery, Davis, N. S. Jr., 670.

Clark, J. P. Anatomical specimens, 435.

Cleveland. Ruptured ovarian cyst, 337.

Cobb, C. M. A new nasal scissors for the removal of the lower turbinate, 603.

Cobb, F. C. Epistaxis, 2, 12.

Coley, W. B. The treatment of inoperable malignant tumors, 68.

Consultants. Expense of medical consultants in South Africa, 343.

Consultation. The physician and the surgical consultant, 70.

Cotton, F. J. Separation of the epiphysis of the olecranon, 692.

Coues, W. P. A case of ptomaine poisoning, 90.

Councilman, W. T. The course in pathology at the Harvard Medical School, 558, 567.

Courtney, J. W. A case of multiple cerebral hemorrhages from chronic lead poisoning, with necropsy, 136, 142; on distortion of the spine, with the report of two cases of diplegia brachialis due to this cause, 345.

Craig, C. F. Some typical cases of estivo-autumnal and tertian malarial fevers with a study of the parasites observed in the blood, 668.

Craig Colony for Epileptics, 311.

Crandon, L. R. G. A self-closing stopper for an ether bottle, 297.

Crook vs. Horrocks, 366.

Crothers, T. D. An excursion to the Paris exhibition, 263.

Cummings, A. R. A centenarian, 207.

Curtin, R. C. The phlebitis of advanced phthisis, with report of cases of phthisis following abscesses of the hand, 573.

Curtis, B. F. Gastric dilatation, gastroptosis, 605.

Cutaneous System. The discovery of scabies, 122; report on dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 193; cases of rash after enemata, 203.

Cyanosis. A second case of cyanosis without assignable cause, Cabot, R. C., 275.

Daland, J. Aneurism of heart, thrombosis of left coronary artery, 575.

Daly, J. R. L. A clinical study of heroin, 190.

Dane, J. A new back brace for Pott's disease, 630.

Davis, B. B. Treatment of injuries of the ureter, 666.

Davis, G. G. Brace for lateral curvature of the spine, 664; an operation for ununited intracapsular fracture of the hip, 664.

Davis, N. S., Jr. A case of malignant endocarditis with recovery, 670.

Death certificates in rural districts, 613.

Deaver, J. B. Appendiceal fistula, 636.

DeBlois. Obesity, 333.

Denison, C. Educational and legislative control of tuberculosis, 572.

Dennis, F. S. Stricture of the esophagus following typhoid fever, gastrostomy, 606.

Diabetes. Notes on diabetes: (1) on the occasional low specific gravity of diabetic saccharine urine; (2) on casts in the urine during diabetic coma, Herrick, J. B., 543.

Digestive System. Appendicitis in a hernial sac, Tenney, B., 4, 12; a simple method for the quantitative analysis of the gastric contents for use in clinical work, Hewes, H. F., 9; a case of perforating gastric ulcer, operation, recovery, with remarks on the surgery of gastric ulcer, Lund, F. B., 25, 41; intestinal digestion, and its relation to pulmonary disease, Burr, C. R., 101; cases of cholecystotomy, Garceau, E., 104; intestinal obstruction, Beach, H. H. A., 110; a brief note on some of those grave abdominal lesions which often defy diagnosis, Manley, T. H., 135; diffuse peritonitis from acute appendicitis in a girl aged thirteen years, operation, recovery, Stinson, J. C., 163; perinephritic abscess involving the appendix, Williams, H., 222; the gastro-intestinal tract in nervous diseases, Pearce, F. S., 242; a method of determining the digestive power of gastric juice, as well as the absorptive power of the stomach, Austin, A. E., 246; idiopathic dilatation of the colon, Fitz, R. H., 274; intermittent gastric hypersecretion, with a report of a case, Elting, A. W., 293; strangulated diaphragmatic hernia, Mixter, S. J., 301; a case of acute general peritonitis, operation, recovery, Mumford, J. G., 301; a case of intestinal obstruction from a hair-ball, Brewster, G. W. W., 395; hair-eating children and convulsions, Lyon, F. D., 395; gunshot wound of the abdomen, with multiple wounds of the intestine, Lothrop, H. A., 405, 413; perigastric adhesions causing indigestion and gastric dilatation, Shattuck, F. C., 428; perforating gastric ulcer, operation, death, Warren, J. C., 428; perforating gastric ulcer simulating appendicitis, Shattuck, F. C., 429; hemorrhage from the whole gastric mucosa simulating gastric ulcer, Shattuck, F. C., 430; pyloric stenosis and gastric dilatation from gastric ulcer, hour-glass contraction of the stomach, Shattuck, F. C., 431; perforating ulcer of the duodenum, Weir, R. F., 453, 603; a study of the nature and significance of the symptoms in disorders of the stomach, Hewes, H. F., 501; the origin of oxaluria from fermentation in the gastro-intestinal tract, Herter, C. A., 545; acute phlegmonous gastritis, Kinnicutt, F. P., 545; cases of diarrhea associated with the presence of strongylus intestinalis in the stools, Thayer, W. S., 548; the attitude of the physician and surgeon to appendicular symptoms complicating typhoid fever, Hare, H. A., 550; observations on appendicitis, Van Gieson, I., 550; stomach conditions in early tuberculosis, Reed, B., 573; gastric hemorrhage, Rodman, W. L., 586, 601; perforating ulcer of the stomach, Finney, J. M. T., 604; malignant diseases of the stomach and pylorus, Mayo, W. J., 604; benign obstruction of the pylorus, Kammerer, F., 605; gastric dilatation, gastroptosis, Curtis, B. F., 605; hour-glass contraction of the stomach, Watson, F. S., 605; diagnosis of cancer of the stomach, Hemmeter, J. C., 606; adhesions of the stomach, Cabot, A. T., 606; gastric functions before and after gastro-enterostomy, Fischer, C. S., 606; stricture of the esophagus following typhoid fever, gastrostomy, Dennis, F. S., 606; surgery of the stomach, Keen, W. W., 607; the methods of closing abdominal incisions, Richardson, M.

H., 607; strangulated hernia through a traumatic rupture of the diaphragm, laparotomy, recovery, Walker, E. W., 608; a retrospect of surgery of the stomach, Walker, H. O., 633; non-perforating gastric ulcer with and without hemorrhage, Rodman, W. L., 633; the diagnosis and treatment of cholelithiasis, Means, W. J., 633; cholecystotomy with special reference to removal of the mucous membrane of the gall-bladder in certain cases as a substitute, Mayo, W. J., 634; the importance of early operation for biliary calculi, Richardson, M. H., 634; the present status of the Murphy button, Murphy, J. B., 635; colostomy for permanent fecal fistula, Wyeth, J. A., 635; the treatment of obstinate constipation based on new points in the anatomy and histology of the rectum and colon, Pennington, J. R., 635; repair after resection of the intestine, Evans, W. A., 635; appendicitis, colitis as an etiologic factor, the question of removal of the appendix in all cases operated upon, Porter, M. S., 636; appendiceal fistula, Deaver, J. B., 636; dysentery, Flexner, S., 638; note on tropical dysentery, Musser, J. H., 638; foreign body in the rectum, Henry, J. G., 645; sarcoma of the intestines, Van Zwalenberg, C., 700.

Diphtheria. Varieties of the diphtheria bacillus, Westbrook, F. F., 548.

Dislocation. A case of old shoulder dislocation, Peckham, F. E., 192; unreduced and irreducible dislocations, Bevan, A. D., 698.

Dock, G. Address before the Section on the Practice of Medicine of the American Medical Association, 581.

Doolittle, W. F. Preliminary report on investigations in the bacteriology of scarlet fever in the scarlet-fever wards of the Children's Hospital, Berlin, 645.

Drugs. Sixteen years' experience in food and drug inspection, Abbott, S. W., 82.

Dudley, E. C. Stricture of the ureter a possible result of laceration of the cervix uteri, and ureterovaginal fistula a result of trachelorrhaphy, 215, 228.

Dunham, E. K. The nature of malignancy in neoplasms, 66.

Dust. Dust storms on Boston's Back Bay, 175; mud and dust in winter, 202; dust pneumonia, 340.

Dwight, T. What position shall universities take with regard to investigation? 1.

Eads, B. B. Operations for injuries of the median and ulnar nerves, 700.

Ear. Otitis media in all grave diseases of infancy, Pomeroy, E. H., 59.

Earles, W. H. Injuries of the skull and its contents, 699.

Eastman, J. R. The advantages of retained catheter, 700.

Edes, R. T. A modification of the sphygmograph, 694.

Editorials. Our attitude toward investigation, 18; medical meetings and medical papers, 18; the case method of teaching medicine, 42; Sir James Paget, 43; the physician and the surgical consultant, 70; original research, a means or an end, 71; the dispersion of bequests, 94; the wounded in South Africa, 95; report of the Surgeon-General of the Army, 118; military surgery in South Africa, 118; the evolution of surgery in London, 147; sanitariums for tuberculosis, 149; human vivisection, 172; State care of the insane, 173; clinical instruction in small sections, 174; dust storms on Boston's Back Bay, 175; annual report of Harvard University, 201; mud and dust in winter, 202; cases of rash after enemata, 203; the limit is reached, 204; sanatoria for tuberculosis and prophylaxis, 230; some anti-vivisection "arguments," 231; the controversy as to the nutritive value of alcohol, 258; two volumes of "Proceedings," 259; progress in medical teaching, 282; Christian Science a menace to the public weal, 283; the question of prizes, 283; the development of out-patient departments, 310; our attitude toward epidemic disease, 311; the Craig Colony for Epileptics, 311; the proper seating of school children, 339; the Pathological Institute of the New York State Hospitals, 339; dust pneumonia, 340; mosquitoes and malaria, 340; destruction of the mosquito for the limitation of malaria, 341; The Long Island Hospital, Boston Harbor; report of the trustees, 362; on the effect of the exclusion of certain diseases as causes of mortality, 363; the "humane" bullet, 364; the responsibilities and qualifications of a health commissioner, 390; physical training and Swedish gymnastics, 390; science pure and science applied, 414; annual report of the Massachusetts General Hospital, 415; medicine as a means of grace, 438; the fatality of certain diseases, of a certain number attacked what percentage dies? 439; lobar pneumonia, 440; small-pox is a preventable disease, 440; typhoid fever and the water supply of Paris, 466; Sir Andrew Douglas Maclagan, 468; Dr. Bowditch's address, 468; hospital endowment and hospital abuse, 522; the filtering power of the soil and the conveyance of bacteria by means of subsoil water, 523; first report of the Massachusetts State Board of Insanity, 551; the transmission of syphilis to the lower animals, 552; compulsory notification of tuberculosis, 575; proprietary medicines and the pharmacopeia, 576; the twenty-eighth annual report of the Local Government Board of England (1898-99), supplement. Report of the medical officer, 609; hospital statistics, 611; the Massachusetts Medical Society, 641; the death-rate of Chicago, 642; American Medical Association, 642; three notable volumes, 671; alcohol in the tropics, 672; adjustable school furniture, 673; the scientific physician, 701; adjustable furniture for schools, 702.

Education. The case method of teaching systematic medicine, Cannon, W. B., 31; the case method of teaching medicine, 42; the case method of teaching systematic medicine, White, J. W., 153; a system of clinical instruction, for the simultaneous instruction in small sections of a large number of students, Wentworth, A. H., 155; clinical instruction in small sections, 174; annual report of Harvard University, 201; progress in medical teaching, 282; the old order changes, Mumford, J. G., 586; vivisection in the Harvard Medical School, a reply, Putnam, J. J., 209; the medical school of the future, Bowditch, H. P., 445; some thoughts on medical education, Shattuck, F. C., 529; the inductive method applied to medicine, Eliot, C. W., 557, 567; the course in pathology at the Harvard Medical School, Councilman, W. T., 558, 567; the case system in medicine, Cannon, W. B., 563, 568; a personal experience in the teaching of surgery, Burrell, H. L., 565, 568; a consideration of the principal objections to "section teaching," together with some of its advantages, Wentworth, A. H., 566, 568; on medical education, Wyman, M., 569; the endowment of medical colleges, Keen, W. W., 583.

Egan, P. R. The best diet for the tropics, the army ration, 47.

Einhorn, M. The early recognition and management of malignant disease in the digestive system, 67.

Electrozone. Disinfectant value of "electrozone," 394.

Eliot, C. W. The inductive method applied to medicine, 557, 567.

Elting, A. W. Intermittent gastric hypersecretion, with a report of a case, 293.

Engelmann, G. J. Third International Congress of Obstetrics and Gynecology, held at Amsterdam, August 8-12, 1899, 403, 412.

Epidemic Disease. Our attitude toward epidemic disease, 311.

Epilepsy. Epilepsy, Paul, W. E., 107, 112; the Craig Colony for Epileptics, 311; a communication on the relation of uric-acid secretion to epileptic attacks, Putnam, J. J., and Pfaff, F., 543.

Epistaxis, Cobb, F. C., 2, 12.

Ernst, H. C. Development of the microscope, 395; closing statement for the remonstrants to the Massachusetts House bill No. 917, entitled "an act for the further prevention of cruelty to animals," before the joint committee on probate and insolvency, March 15, 1900, 619, 650.

Evans, W. A. Repair after resection of the intestine, 635.

Extra-uterine Pregnancy. A case of extra-uterine pregnancy, with operation, Johnson, F. W., 355; double extra-uterine pregnancy, Cabot, R. C., 428; a case of extra-uterine pregnancy, Holyoke, F., 655.

Fatality of certain diseases: of a certain number attacked what percentage dies? 439.

Fibroids. The conservative operative treatment of fibroids, report of three cases, Burrage, W. L., 349, 358; two cases illustrating conservative operations for uterine fibroids, Kingman, R. A., 352.

Filaria. A case of filaria, with specimens of the adult parasite, Lothrop and Pratt, 548.

Finney, J. M. T. Perforating ulcer of the stomach, 604.

Fischer, C. S. Gastric functions before and after gastro-enterostomy, 606.

Fitz, G. W. Swedish gymnastics, 579.

Fitz, R. H. Idiopathic dilatation of the colon, 274; case of cystoma of the pancreas, 550.

Flexner, S. The nature of the new tissue in cirrhosis of the liver, and its distribution, 549; dysentery, 638.

Folie à deux, Jelly, A. C., 369, 386.

Food. Sixteen years' experience in food and drug inspection, Abbott, S. W., 82; aseptic milk, Randall, G. M., 122.

Fractures. The open or operative treatment of fresh fractures, is it ever justifiable? Scudder, C. L., 289, 304, 322.

Freeman, L. Union following pathological fracture of the femur due to secondary carcinoma, spontaneous disappearance of carcinoma of the lip, 609.

Frontal Sinus. Empyema of frontal sinus, Paige, J. D., 355.

Fungus. A new pathogenic fungus (sporothrix Schenck), Hektoen, L., 545.

Fussell, M. H. Perichondritis of the larynx in typhoid fever, with exhibition of a patient and a specimen, 550; examination of the blood, its value to the general practitioner, 638.

Galloway, H. P. H. The relation of deformity of the pelvis to lateral curvature of the spine, 629.

Garceau, E. Cases of cholecystotomy, 104.

Generative System. Recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P., 63; malignancy in the female genito-urinary system, Baldwin, L. G., 66; on the high operation for disease within the scrotum, Mumford, J. G., 89; ovarian cysts with twisted pedicles, Richardson, M. H., 91; stricture of the ureter a possible result of laceration of the cervix uteri and ureterovaginal fistula a result of trachelorrhaphy, Dudley, E. C., 215, 228; abstract of paper on "further experience with the operative treatment of anteflexion," Burrage, W. L., 241, 255; steam in the treatment of chronic hyperplastic and senile endometritis, putrid abortion and puerperal sepsis, Johnson, F. W., 269, 279; cysts of both ovaries, hydatidiform mole, removed by abdominal incision, Porter, C. B., 298; ruptured ovarian cyst, Cleveland, C., 337; the conservative operative treatment of fibroids, report of three cases, Burrage, W. L., 349, 358; vaginal myomectomy, removal of fibroid nodule three centimetres (one and one-fourth inches) by one and one-half centimetres (seven-eighths inch) of subperitoneal evolution from the front wall of the uterus by anterior colpotomy, Burrage, W. L., 349; morcellation of submucous nodule at fundus, and polyp with pedicle springing from fundus, Burrage, W. L., 350; two cases illustrating conservative operations for uterine fibroids, Kingman, R. A., 352; a peculiar case of adenocarcinoma of the body of the uterus, Vietor, A. C., 353; on intermenstrual dysmenorrhea, Storer, M., 397, 411; treatment of cancer of cervix of the uterus complicated by pregnancy, Johnston, G. B., 401, 411; Third International Congress of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Engelmann, G. J., 403; the question of supernumerary Fallopian tubes, with specimens of Fallopian tubes with supernumerary ostia, Vietor, A. C., 513, 518; a new method of intra-abdominal operation for retroverted uteri, Kaan, G. W., 602.

Gibney, V. P. The simple and efficient treatment of calcaneus paralyticus in young children, 629; a case of tuberculosis of the astragalus with anchylosis and subsequent amputation, 631.

Gillette, A. J. Spasmodic lateral curvature of the spine, 629.

Goffe, J. R. The use of the angiotribe, 373.

Goldthwait, J. E. Knee-joint surgery for other than tubercular processes, 662.

Graves's disease without exophthalmic goitre, Thomson, W. H., 550.

Griffith, J. B. C. Recurrent vomiting in childhood, 544.

Gunshot Wounds. A pistol wound of the abdomen, Atwood, C. A., 39; remarks upon the gunshot wounds of the reduced calibre rifles in the Santiago campaign, La Garde, L. A., 57; the wounded in South Africa, 95; gunshot wound of the abdomen, with multiple wounds of the intestine, Lothrop, H. A., 405, 413; the marks produced by pistol shots, Hough, G. De N., 657, 659.

Gymnastics. Physical training and Swedish gymnastics, 390; Swedish gymnastics, Fitz, G. W., 579.

Hair. A case of intestinal obstruction from a hair-ball, Brewster, G. W. W., 395; hair-eating children and convulsions, Lyon, F. D., 395; another hair-ball, Homans, J., 419.

Ham, J. R. Death in the dental chair, 527.

Hamilton, W. D. Growths in the frontal sinus, 699.
Happel, T. J. Pseudo (?) or modified (?) small-pox, 640.
Hare, H. A. The attitude of the physician and surgeon to appendicular symptoms complicating typhoid fever, 550.
Harrington, F. B. Pudendal hernia of the bladder in a woman forty-six years of age, 431; a case of subpubic hernia of the bladder through the pelvic floor, operation, 608.
Harvard University. Annual report of Harvard University, 201.
Heat in Argentina, 394.
Hektoen, L. A new pathogenic fungus (sporothrix Schenck), 545.
Hemmeter, J. C. Diagnosis of cancer of the stomach, 606.
Henry, F. P. Clinical notes on cases of pernicious anemia, 546.
Henry, J. G. Foreign body in the rectum, 645.
Hernia. Strangulated diaphragmatic hernia, Mixter, S. J., 301; pudendal hernia of the bladder in a woman forty-six years of age, Harrington, F. B., 431; a case of subpubic hernia of the bladder through the pelvic floor, operation, Harrington, F. B., 608; the treatment of hernia in children, Ochsner, A. J., 665; treatment of ventral hernia, Johnson, M. M., 665; cure of inguinal hernia in the male, Marcy, H. O., 665.
Heroin. A clinical study of heroin, Daly, J. R. L., 190.
Herrick, J. B. Notes on diabetes, (1) on the occasional low specific gravity of diabetic saccharine urine, (2) on casts in the urine during diabetic coma, 543.
Herter, C. A. The origin of oxaluria from fermentation in the gastro-intestinal tract, 545.
Hewes, H. F. A simple method for the quantitative analysis of the gastric contents for use in clinical work, 9; a study of the nature and significance of the symptoms in disorders of the stomach, 504, 515.
Higgins, F. A. A sterilizer and equipment for confinement cases, 88, 91; recent progress in obstetrics, 138.
Hip. Allis's method of reducing a dislocation of the hip, Warren, J. C., 40; dislocations of the hip, demonstrations on the cadaver illustrative of their mechanism, Allis, O. H., 606.
Hoffmann, P. A suspension pressure chair for scoliosis, 630.
Holmes, E. W. Anatomy of hanging, 700.
Holyoke, F. A case of extra-uterine pregnancy, 655.
Homans, J. On the advisability of a more or less general exploration of the abdomen when it has been opened for an operation, 189; another hair-ball, 419.
Homeopathy. Homeopathy and the public, Sumner, A. F., 22.
Horseflesh as a food, 644.
Hospitals. Hospital endowment and hospital abuse, 522; hospital statistics, 611.
Hough, G. De N. The marks produced by pistol shots, 657, 659.
Howard, L. O. Structural and other differences between the several mosquitoes of North America, 641.
Hubbard, J. C. The practical value of the white blood count in surgical cases, 409, 412.
Humerus. Comminuted fracture of humerus, Porter, C. B., 300; fracture of surgical neck of humerus, with displacement of head of humerus, Porter, C. B., 300.
Humidity. Humidity and disease, 99; the relative humidity of our houses in winter, Ward, R. de C., 217.
Hydrochloric Acid. Preservative qualities of hydrochloric acid, 555.
Hydrophobia in Athens, 314.
Hygiene, Health and Boards of Health. The relative humidity of our houses in winter, Ward, R. de C., 217; progress in public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 330, 356, 380, 432; the proper seating of school children, 339; the responsibilities and qualifications of a health commissioner, 390; boards of health, 443.
Hyperchlorhydria. Nitrate of silver in hyperchlorhydria, Smithwick, M. P., 6, 15.
Influenza. Influenza in London, 75; the discovery of the bacillus of influenza, Thayer, A. S., 263; influenza and pneumonia in New York, 285; the discovery of the influenza bacillus, Wright, J. H., 286.
Instruments and Apparatus. A sterilizer and equipment for confinement cases, Higgins, F. A., 88, 91; the clinical value of Oliver's hemocytometer, Scannell, D. D., 100; a new needle holder, Monks, G. H., 296; a self-closing stopper for an ether bottle, Crandon, L. R. G., 297; a cystoscope, Pryor, W. R., 337; the use of the angiotribe, Goffe, J. R., 373; a new nasal scissors for the removal of the lower turbinate, Cobb, C. M., 603; a suspension pressure chair for scoliosis, Hoffmann, P., 630; a new back brace for Pott's disease, Dane, J., 630; brace for lateral curvature of the spine, Davis, G. G., 664; a modification of the sphygmograph, Edes, R. T., 694.
Investigation. What position shall universities take with regard to investigation? Dwight, T., 1; our attitude toward investigation, 18.
Jackson, J. W. A case of splenic anemia, 424.
Jacobi, A. Banquet in honor of Dr. Jacobi, 492; heart lesions in infancy, 571.
Janeway, E. G. Address before the Association of American Physicians, 542.
Jelly, A. C. Folie à deux, 369, 386.
Johnson, F. W. Steam in the treatment of chronic hyperplastic and senile endometritis, putrid abortion and puerperal sepsis, 269, 279; a case of extrauterine pregnancy, with operation, 355.
Johnson, M. M. Treatment of ventral hernia, 665.
Johnston, G. B. Treatment of cancer of the cervix of the uterus complicated by pregnancy, 401, 411.
Johnston, W. W. Case of Addison's disease under treatment with suprarenal extract, 549.
Joints. The treatment of tuberculosis of the knee-joint, Townsend, W., 698.
Jones, F. A. Clinical observations in malaria, 668.
Jurisprudence. The law of dying declarations, Sughrue, M. J., 653, 658.
Kaan, G. W. A new method of intra-abdominal operation for retroverted uteri, 602.
Kammerer, F. Benign obstruction of the pylorus, 605.
Keen, W. W. The endowment of medical colleges, 583; surgery of the stomach, 606.
Kellogg, J. H. The hydriatic treatment of tuberculosis, 574.
Kelly, A. O. J. Pathogenesis and clinical features of arthritis deformans, 669.
Kelly, H. A. Nephro-ureterocystectomy, 700.
Kingman, R. A. Two cases illustrating conservative operations for uterine fibroids, 352.
Kinnicutt, F. P. Acute phlegmonous gastritis, 545.
Klebs, A. C. The construction and management of small cottage sanatoria for consumptives, 572.
Knapp, P. C. The unity of the acute psychoses, 181; the problem of Boston's insane, 377, 383.
Knee. Dislocation of internal semilunar cartilage, removal, good recovery, Porter, C. B., 298; floating cartilages in both knee-joints, Porter, C. B., 299.
Knight, H. S. A case of pernicious vomiting of pregnancy, 512, 518.
Knopf, S. H. The tenement house and tuberculosis, 233.
Laboratories. Hospital and ward clinical laboratories, Camac, C. N. B., 657.
La Garde, L. A. Remarks upon the gunshot wounds of the reduced calibre rifles in the Santiago campaign, 57.
Larynx. Perichondritis of the larynx in typhoid fever with exhibition of a patient and a specimen, Fussell, M. H., 550.
Lazear, J. W. Pathology of malarial fevers, structure of the parasites and changes in the tissues, 640.
Leffingwell, A. F. Dr. Leffingwell protests, 419.
Leonard, C. L. Diagnosis of calculous disease of kidney, ureters and bladder by the x-rays, 666.
Lindstrom, A. H. On the treatment of pain in tabes dorsalis, report of a case, 37.
Lithiasis preputialis, Blodgett, A. N., 675.
Liver. Resection of a portion of the liver for adeno carcinoma of the cystic duct, 276; traumatic rupture of echinococcus cyst of liver, Porter, C. A., 302; adenocystoma of the liver, Shattuck, F. C., 427; the nature of the new tissue in cirrhosis of the liver and its distribution, Flexner, S., 549.
Lloyd, S. Laminectomy for diseases and injuries to the spinal cord, 699.
London. The evolution of surgery in London, 147.
Long Island Hospital, Boston Harbor, report of the trustees, 362.
Loomis, H. P. Some personal observations on the effect of intrapleural injection of nitrogen gas in tuberculosis, 573.
Lord, S. A. Two cases of Thompsen's disease and one of transient myotone, occurring in one family, 249.
Lothrop and Pratt. A case of filaria, with specimens of the adult parasite, 548.
Lothrop, H. A. Gunshot wound of the abdomen, with multiple wounds of the intestine, 405, 413.
Lovett, R. W. The mechanics of lateral curvature of the spine, 622, 629.
Lovett, R. W., and Withington, C. F. Typhoid spine, 317, 334.
Lund, F. B. A case of perforating gastric ulcer, operation, recovery, with remarks on the surgery of gastric ulcer, 25.
Macdonald. Address before the Medical Society of the State of New York, 166.
MacDougall, R. Psychology and heredity, 185, 197, 219.
Maceo. Antonio Maceo's skull, 207.
Maine. Special medicine chest for the hospital ship Maine, 21.
Malaria. Anopheles and malaria, Celli, 261; mosquitoes and malaria, 340; destruction of the mosquito for the limitation of malaria, 341; malaria and mosquitoes, Rosse, I. C., 628; pathology of malarial fevers, structure of the parasites and changes in the tissues, Lazear, J. W., 640; etiology of malaria with special reference to mosquitoes, Thayer, W. S., 641, some typical cases of estivo-autumnal and tertian malarial fevers, with a study of the parasites observed in the blood, Craig, C. F., 668; clinical observations in malaria, Jones, F. A., 668; malarial hemoglobinuria, Burns, W. B., 668; prolonged fevers of obscure origin, Preble, R. B., 668.
Malignant Disease, Bryant, J. D., 65; the nature of malignancy in neoplasms, Durham, E. K., 66; malignancy in the female genito-urinary system, Baldwin, L. G., 66; malignant disease of the nose and throat, Wright, J., 67; the early recognition and management of malignant disease in the digestive system, Einhorn, M., 67; the treatment of inoperable malignant tumors, Coley, W. B., 68.
Mallory, F. B. Proliferation and phagocytosis, 547.
Manley, T. H. A brief note on some of those grave abdominal lesions which often defy diagnosis, 135.
Marcy, H. O. Cure of inguinal hernia in the male, 665.
Marine-Hospital Service. Examination for assistant surgeons in the United States Marine-Hospital Service, 74.
Massachusetts General Hospital. Clinical meeting of the medical board, 274, 297, 425; annual report, 415.
Materia Medica and Therapeutics. A clinical study of heroin, Daly, J. R. L., 190; disinfectant value of electrozone, 394; the hydriatic treatment of tuberculosis, Kellogg, J. H., 574; petroleum oil in the treatment of phthisis, Robinson, W. D., 574; proprietary medicines and the pharmacopeia, 576; a final report on the use of pure carbolic acid in the treatment of tubercular and purulent diseases of joints and bones, Phelps, A. M., 629.
Mayo, W. J. Malignant diseases of the stomach and pylorus, 604; cholecystotomy, with special reference to removal of the mucous membrane of the gall-bladder in certain cases as a substitute, 634.
McCurdy, S. L. Developmental shortening in tubercular bone disease, 664.
Means, W. J. The diagnosis and treatment of cholelithiasis, 633.
Measles. The importance of restricting measles, 314.
Medicine as a means of grace, 438.
Meetings. Medical meetings and medical papers, 18.
Microscope. Development of the microscope, Ernst, H. C., 395.
Milk. Aseptic milk, Randall, G. M., 122.
Mind. State control of the insane, 74; report of a few cases of insanity treated by the cold pack, Abbott, 164; State care of the insane, 173; the unity of the acute psychoses, Knapp, P. C., 181; psychology and heredity, MacDougall, R., 185, 197, 219; Folie à deux, Jelly, A. C., 369, 386; the problem of Boston's insane, Knapp, P. C., 377, 383; the work of the trustees of the Boston Insane Hospital and their plans for its future development, Baldwin, H. C., 379, 383; first report of the Massachusetts State Board of Insanity, 551.

Mitchell, J. K. Study of a mummy with infantile paralysis, 550.
Mixter, S. J. Strangulated diaphragmatic hernia, 301.
Monks, G. H. A new needle holder, 296.
Morse, J. L. Three unusual cases of angioneurotic edema in infancy, 10; splenic anemia, 422, 436.
Mortality. On the effect of the exclusion of certain diseases as causes of mortality, 363.
Mosquitoes and malaria, 340; destruction of the mosquito for the limitation of malaria, 341; mosquitoes and the march of empire, 419; malaria and mosquitoes, Rosse, I. C., 628; etiology of malaria, with special reference to mosquitoes, Thayer, W. S., 641; structural and other differences between the several mosquitoes of North America, Howard, L. O., 641.
Mumford, J. G. On the high operation for disease within the scrotum, 89; the old order changes, 286, 315; a case of acute general peritonitis, operation, recovery, 301; a case of Chopart's amputation, with tendon implantation and tenotomy, 301.
Munson, E. L. The ideal ration for an army in the tropics, 463, 489, 501, 534.
Murphy, J. B. The present status of the Murphy button, 635.
Musser, J. H. Note on tropical dysentery, 638.
Nelson, C. D. Experiments with tuberculin, 676.
Nervous System. On the treatment of pain in tabes dorsalis, report of a case, Lindström, A. H., 37; epilepsy, Paul, W. E., 107, 112; case of combined superior and inferior poliencephalitis, Walton, G. L., 109; a case of multiple cerebral hemorrhages from chronic lead poisoning, with necropsy, Courtney, J. W., 136, 142; the unity of the acute psychoses, Knapp, P. C., 181; the gastro-intestinal tract in nervous disease, Pearce, F. S., 242; two cases of Thompsen's disease, and one of transient myotone, occurring in one family, Lord, S. A., 249; injuries about the shoulder at birth, Stone, J. S., 265; instruction in co-ordination in tabes, Putnam, J. J., 274; muscular dystrophy, Putnam, J. J., 274; case of acromegaly, Walton, G. L., 274; a case of poliencephalitis superior and inferior with acute anterior poliomyelitis, Taylor, E. W., 275; the Craig Colony for Epileptics, 311; hydrophobia in Athens, 314; a case of periodic palsy, with suggestions as to the pathogenesis, Putnam, J. J., 334; on distortion of the spine, with the report of two cases of diplegia brachalis due to this cause, Courtney, J. W., 345; subcortical motor aphasia, Walton, G. L., 425; on ischemic paralysis and contracture of muscles, Bernays, A. C., 539; a communication on the relation of uric-acid secretion to epileptic attacks, Putnam, J. J., and Pfaff, F., 543; report of a case of acute ascending paralysis showing hematoporphyrinuria, Stockton, C. G., 543; study of a mummy affected with infantile paralysis, Mitchell, J. K., 550; tetanus treated with antitetanic serum, Blake, J. D., 699; laminectomy for diseases and injuries to the spinal cord, Lloyd, S., 699; operations for injuries of the median and ulnar nerves, Eads, B. B., 700.
Newton, R. C. Report of certain cases of tuberculosis which were apparently due to the nature of the soil, 571.
Noble, C. P. Remarks on the influence of technique upon the results of closure of wounds of the abdominal walls, 237, 256.
Nomenclature. The limit is reached, 204.
Nose. Malignant disease of the nose and throat, Wright, J., 67.
Obesity. DeBlois, 333.
Ochsner, A. J. The treatment of hernia in children, 665.
Old Age. Results of surgery in the aged, Tuttle, J. P., 700.
Olecranon. Ununited fracture of olecranon, Porter, C. B., 299; separation of the epiphysis of the olecranon, Cotton, F. J., 692.
Orthopedic Surgery. Report on orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H., and Brackett, E. G., 223.
Orthopraxy. The simple and efficient treatment of calcaneus paralyticus in young children, Gibney, V. P., 629; a final report on the use of pure carbolic acid in the treatment of tubercular and purulent diseases of joints and bones, Phelps, A. M., 629; the mechanics of lateral curvature of the spine, Lovett, R. W., 622, 629; some of the problems involved in the treatment of lateral curvature of the spine, Shaffer, N. M., 629; the relation of deformity of the pelvis to lateral curvature of the spine, Galloway, H. P. H., 629; spasmodic lateral curvature of the spine, Gillette, A. J., 629; the results of my observations in lateral curvature of the spine, clinically, mechanically and pathologically, Phelps, A. M., 629; anterior support supplementing the Taylor brace in Pott's disease, Packard, G. B., 630; a suspension pressure chair for scoliosis, Hoffmann, P., 630; results of treatment of congenital dislocation of the hip, Bradford, E. H., 630; a new back brace for Pott's disease, Dane, J., 630; tendon transplantation in the treatment of paralytic deformities, Townsend, W. R., 630; a case of congenital dislocation of the shoulder, with radiograph, Porter, J. L., 630; a case of tuberculosis of the astragalus with anchylosis and subsequent amputation, Gibney, V. P., 631; forcible correction of spinal curvature followed by paralysis, Taylor, R. T., 662; a case of scorbutic spine, Ridlon, J., 662; knee-joint surgery for other than tubercular processes, Goldthwait, J. E., 662; the treatment of vertebral tuberculosis with reference to the forcible correction of the deformity, Ridlon, J., 663; brace for lateral curvature of the spine, Davis, G. G., 664; retardation of growth as a cause of shortening after coxitis, Taylor, H. L., 664; developmental shortening in tubercular bone disease, McCurdy, S. L., 664; rapid osteoclasis for the correction of rhachitic deformities of the legs, Blanchard, W., 664; an operation for ununited intracapsular fracture of the hip, Davis, G. G., 664.
Osler, W. A Rhode Island philosopher, Elisha Bartlett, 49.
Out-Patient Department. The development of out-patient departments, 310.
Ovary. Ovarian cysts with twisted pedicles, Richardson, M. H., 91; cysts of both ovaries, hydatidiform mole removed by abdominal incision, Porter, C. B., 298; ruptured ovarian cyst, Cleveland, 337.
Packard, G. B. Anterior support supplementing the Taylor brace in Pott's disease, 630.
Paige, J. D. Empyema of frontal sinus, 355.
Pancreas. Case of cystoma of the pancreas, Fitz, R. H., 550.
Papers. Medical meetings and medical papers, 18.
Parasites. A case of filaria, with specimens of the adult parasite, Lothrop and Pratt, 548.
Paris. Letter from Paris, 261; an excursion to the Paris exhibition, Crothers, T. D., 263; typhoid fever and the water supply of Paris, 466.
Park, W. H. The elimination of deleterious substances from antitoxic sera, 548.
Patella. Fresh fractured patella, sutured with catgut through the periosteum, Warren, J. C., 276; slipping patella, Porter, C. B., 298; fracture of right patella, Porter, C. B., 299; fractures of the patella, Barton, J. W., 698.
Pathology. Report on progress in pathology, Wright, J. H., 253; the Pathological Institute of the New York State Hospitals, 339; the course in pathology at the Harvard Medical School, Councilman, W. T., 557, 568.
Paul, W. E. Epilepsy, 107, 112.
Pavements. Street paving in Boston, 234; street pavements, 263.
Pearce, F. S. The gastro-intestinal tract in nervous disease, 242.
Peckham, F. E. A case of old shoulder dislocation, 192.
Pelvic Gumma, Stone, A. K., 425.
Pelvis. Congenital cystic tumor of the pelvis, Willard, De F., 608.
Pennington, J. R. The treatment of obstinate constipation based on new points in the anatomy and histology of the rectum and colon, 635.
Pharmacopeia. H. C. Wood, address, 487.
Phelps, A. M. A final report on the use of pure carbolic acid in the treatment of tubercular and purulent diseases of joints and bones, 629; the results of my observations in lateral curvature of the spine, clinically, mechanically and pathologically, 629.
Physical training and Swedish gymnastics, 399.
Physiology. American Society of Physiologists, 21.
Plague. Precautions against the importation of plague, 121; a plague laboratory, 207; plague at Mengtsz Yunnan, China, 286; reports of plague in California exaggerated, 579.
Poisons. A case of ptomaine poisoning, Coues, W. P., 90; a case of multiple cerebral hemorrhages from chronic lead poisoning, with necropsy, Courtney, J. W., 136, 142.
Pomeroy, F. H. Otitis media in all grave diseases of infancy, 59.
Porter, C. A. Traumatic rupture of echinococcus cyst of liver, 302.
Porter, C. B. Sarcoma of the tonsil, 297; slipping patella, 298; cysts of both ovaries, hydatidiform mole, removed by abdominal incision, 298; dislocation of internal semilunar cartilage, removal, good recovery, 298; ununited fracture of olecranon, 299; floating cartilages in both knee-joints, 299; fracture of right patella, 299; comminuted fracture of humerus, 300; fracture of surgical neck of humerus, with displacement of head of humerus, 300.
Porter, J. L. A case of congenital dislocation of the shoulder, with radiograph, 630.
Porter, M. S. Appendicitis, colitis as an etiologic factor, the question of removal of the appendix in all cases operated upon, 636.
Pratt, J. H., and Fulton, F. T. Report of cases in which the bacillus aërogenes capsulatus was found, 599.
Preble, R. B. Prolonged fevers of obscure origin, 668.
Pregnancy, affections connected with. A sterilizer and equipment for confinement cases, Higgins, F. A., 88, 91; recent progress in obstetrics, Higgins, F. A., 138; steam in the treatment of chronic, hyperplastic and senile endometritis, putrid abortion and puerperal sepsis, Johnson, F. W., 269, 279; a case of extra-uterine pregnancy with operation, Johnson, F. W., 355; treatment of cancer of the cervix of the uterus complicated by pregnancy, Johnson, G. B., 401, 411; Third International Congress of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Engelmann, G. J., 403; double extra-uterine pregnancy, Cabot, R. C., 428; a case of pernicious vomiting of pregnancy, Twombly, E. L., 510; bicornate uterus, with twin pregnancy, abortion from one horn, Winn, C. H., 511; a case of pernicious vomiting of pregnancy, Knight, H. S., 512; a case of extra-uterine pregnancy, Holyoke, F., 655.
Prizes. The question of prizes, 283.
Proceedings. Two volumes of "Proceedings," 259.
Proliferation and phagocytosis, Mallory, F. B., 547.
Pryor, W. R. A cystoscope, 337.
Psychology and Heredity, MacDougall, R., 185, 197, 219.
Ptomaines. A case of ptomaine poisoning, Coues, W. P., 90.
Putnam, J. J. Vivisection in Harvard Medical School, a reply, 209; instruction in co-ordination in tabes, 274; muscular dystrophy, 274; a case of periodic palsy, with suggestions as to the pathogenesis, 334.
Putnam, J. J., and Pfaff, F. A communication on the relation of uric-acid secretion to epileptic attacks, 543.
Quarantine. Additions to quarantine regulations, 177.
Randall, G. M. Aseptic milk, 122.
Ration. The ideal ration for an army in the tropics, Munson, E. L., 463, 489, 501, 534.
Realism in medicine, Cabot, A. T., 615, 647.
Recent Progress. Genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P., 63; obstetrics, Higgins, F. A., 138; dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 193; orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H., and Brackett, E. G., 223; pathology, Wright, J. H., 253; thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., and Bartol, J. W., 276, 302; public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 330, 356, 380, 432.
Reed, B. Stomach conditions in early tuberculosis, 573.
Relapsing Fever. A case of relapsing fever, Ward, G. O., 36.
Research. Original research: a means or an end, 71.
Respiratory System. Influenza in London, 75; intestinal digestion and its relation to pulmonary disease, Burr, C. R., 101; the Massachusetts State Hospital for Consumptives at Rutland, its purpose and the work accomplished during the first year, Bowditch, V. Y., 127, 142; recent progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., and Bartol, J. W., 276, 302; influenza and pneumonia in New York, 285; idiopathic pneumohematothorax, with recovery after aspiration, Boland, E. S., 321, 333; dust pneumonia, 340; lobar pneumonia, 440; sanitarium treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis and its results, Trudeau, E. L., 544; degenerated echinococcus cyst of the pleura, Cary, C., 550; report of certain cases of tuberculosis which were apparently due to the nature of the soil, Newton, R. C., 571; educational and legislative control of tuberculosis, Denison, C., 572; some phases of the tuberculosis problem in Colorado, Bonney, S. G., 572; the construction and management of small sanatoria for consumptives, Klebs, A. C., 572; some personal observations on the effect of intrapleural injections of nitrogen gas in tuberculosis, Loomis, H. P., 573; subsequent history of patients apparently cured by antitubercle serum, Stubbert, J. E., 573; the phlebitis of advanced phthisis, with report of cases of phthisis following abscesses of the hand, Curtin, R. C., 573; the diagnostic value of tuberculin in tuberculosis, Anders, J. M., 573; the hydriatic treatment of tuberculosis, Kellogg, J. H., 574; petroleum oil in the treatment of phthisis, Robinson, W. D., 574; stamina, the special benefit of fats of one kind or another as a necessary article of diet to fortify the system against tubercle bacilli, Bell, A. N., 574; serum therapy in croupous pneumonia, Wilson, J. C., 639; external drainage of superficial lung cavities, with report of two successful cases, Wills, W. L., 665.

Rheumatism. Pathology of rheumatism, Riesman, D., 669; rheumatism and the prevention of heart complications, Walsh, J. J., 669; the relations of chorea and rheumatism, Burr, C. W., 669; heart in rheumatism, Rochester, DeL., 669; pathogenesis and features of arthritis deformans, Kelly, A. O. J., 669.

Richardson, M. H. Ovarian cysts with twisted pedicles, 91; the case of a man who swallowed his suspenders, removal by external esophagotomy, recovery, other similar cases, 158; the methods of closing abdominal incisions, 607; the importance of early operation for biliary calculi, 634.

Ridlon, J. A case of scorbutic spine, 662; the treatment of vertebral tuberculosis with reference to the forcible correction of the deformity, 663.

Riesman, D. Pathology of rheumatism, 669.

Robinson, B. Minor cases of cardiac dilatation, 550.

Robinson, W. D. Petroleum oil in the treatment of phthisis, 574.

Rochester, DeL. Heart in rheumatism, 669.

Rodman, W. L. Gastric hemorrhage, 586, 604; non-perforating gastric ulcer, with and without hemorrhage, 633.

Roentgen. X-ray examinations of the abdomen, Williams, F. H., 23; the value of x-ray examinations in the less frequent diseases of the chest illustrated by their use in those cases where aneurism is present or suspected, Williams, F. H., 54, 85; note on x-ray examinations of the lung, Williams, F. H., 555; surgical errors of skiagraphy, Beck, C., 666; diagnosis of calculous disease of kidney, ureters and bladder by the x-rays, Leonard, C. L., 666.

Rosse, I. C. Malaria and mosquitoes, 628.

Sanatoria for tuberculosis and prophylaxis, 230.

Sanitariums for tuberculosis, 149; local sanitariums for tuberculosis in New York State, 150.

Scabies. The discovery of scabies, 122.

Scannell, D D. The clinical value of Oliver's hemocytometer, 160.

Scarlet Fever. Preliminary report on investigations in the bacteriology of scarlet fever in the scarlet-fever wards of the Children's Hospital, Berlin, Doolittle, W. F., 645.

School. The proper seating of school children, 339; adjustable school furniture, 673; adjustable furniture for schools, 702.

Science pure and science applied, 414.

Scrotum. On the high operation for disease within the scrotum, Mumford, J. G., 89.

Scudder, C. L. The open or operative treatment of fresh fractures, is it ever justifiable? 289, 304; x-ray plates of traumatic separation of epiphysis, 300.

Sea. The influence of sea-air and sea-water on disease, Stewart, W. B., 639.

Sears, G. G., and Bartol, J. W. Report on progress in thoracic diseases, 276, 302.

Serum. The elimination of deleterious substances from antitoxic sera, Park, W. H., 548.

Sex. Determination of sex at will, 234.

Shaffer, N. M. Some of the problems involved in the treatment of lateral curvature of the spine, 629.

Shattuck, F. C. Adenocystoma of the liver, 427; perigastric adhesions causing indigestion and gastric dilatation, 428; perforating gastric ulcer simulating appendicitis, 429; hemorrhage from the whole gastric mucosa simulating gastric ulcer, 430; pyloric stenosis and gastric dilatation from gastric ulcer, hour-glass contraction of the stomach, 431; typhoid fever, perforation, immediate operation, 432; some thoughts on medical education, 529.

Shattuck, G. B., Warren, J. C., and Cobb, F. A study of twenty-four cases of typhoid fever with symptoms of peritoneal infection, laparotomy, 677, 696.

Shoulder. A dislocation of the shoulder explaining the action of Kocher's method, Warren, J. C., 40; a case of old shoulder dislocation, Peckham, F. E., 192; injuries about the shoulder at birth, Stone, J. S., 265.

Skull. Growths in the frontal sinus, Hamilton, W. D., 699; injuries of the skull and its contents, Earles, W. H., 699.

Small-pox. Small-pox is a preventable disease, 440; pseudo (?) or modified (?) small-pox, Happel, T. J., 640.

Smith, T. Adaptation of pathogenic bacteria to different species of animals, 473.

Smithwick, M. P. Nitrate of silver in hyperchlorhydria, 6, 15.

Societies. American Climatological Association, 571; American Medical Association, 631, 642, 665, 698; American Orthopedic Association, 629, 662; American Society of Physiologists, 21; American Surgical Association, 603; Association of American Physicians, 542; Association of Military Surgeons, 613; Boston Medico-Psychological Society, 164, 197, 386; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 11, 110, 197, 333, 383, 435, 567, 696; International Congress of Obstetrics and Gynecology, 403; International Medical Congress, 177, 314; Massachusetts Medical Society, 641, 660, 675; Massachusetts Medico-Legal Society, 658; New York, Medical Society of the State of, 166; New York Obstetrical Society, 337; New York State Medical Association, 65; Obstetrical Society of Boston, 91, 228, 255, 411; Suffolk District Medical Society, 15, 40, 140, 279, 301, 334, 357, 412, 515.

Sociological status of the physician, Blake, C. J., 482.

Soil. The filtering power of the soil and the conveyance of bacteria by means of subsoil water, 523.

Solly, S. E. The blood changes in high altitudes, 574.

South Africa. War notes from South Africa, 47.

Spine. Typhoid spine, Lovett, R. W., and Withington, C. F., 317, 334; on distortion of the spine, with the report of two cases of diplegia brachialis due to this cause, Courtney, J. W., 345; the mechanics of lateral curvature of the spine, Lovett, R. W., 622, 629; some of the problems involved in the treatment of lateral curvature of the spine, Shaffer, N. M., 629; the relation of deformity of the pelvis to lateral curvature of the spine, Galloway, H. P. H., 629; spasmodic lateral curvature of the spine, Gillette, A. J., 629; the results of my observations in lateral curvature of the spine, clinically, mechanically and pathologically, Phelps, A. M., 629; anterior support supplementing the Taylor brace in Pott's disease, Packard, G. B., 630; a suspension pressure chair for scoliosis, Hoffmann, P., 630.

Spleen. Splenic pseudoleukemia, historical sketch, Cabot, R. C., 421, 435; splenic anemia, Morse, J. L., 422, 436; splenic anemia, Jackson, H., 423, 436; a case of splenic anemia, Jackson, J. M., 424.

Splints. A lecture on surgical splinting, Tracy, E. A., 206.

State Medicine. Oration on State medicine, Vaughan, V. C., 631; the law of dying declarations, Sughrue, M. J., 653, 658; a case of extra-uterine pregnancy, Holyoke, F., 655; the marks produced by pistol shots, Hough, G. de N., 657, 659.

Steam in the treatment of chronic hyperplastic and senile endometritis, putrid abortion and puerperal sepsis, Johnson, F. W., 269, 279.

Stengel, A. Aneurism of the aorta with rupture into the superior vena cava recognized during life, 550.

Sterilizer and equipment for confinement cases, Higgins, F. A., 88, 91.

Stewart, W. B. The influence of sea-air and sea-water on disease, 639.

Stinson, J. C. Diffuse peritonitis from acute appendicitis in a girl thirteen years old, operation, recovery, 163.

Stockton, C. G. Report of a case of acute ascending paralysis, showing hematoporphyrinuria, 543.

Stone, A. K. Pelvic gumma, 425.

Stone, J. S. Injuries about the shoulder at birth, 265.

Storer, M. On intermenstrual dysmenorrhea, 397, 411.

Stubbert, J. E. Subsequent history of patients apparently cured by antitubercle serum, 573.

Sughrue, J. M. The law of dying declarations, 653, 658.

Sumner, A. F. Homeopathy and the public, 22.

Surgery. The evolution of surgery in London, 147; a personal experience in the teaching of surgery, Burrell, H. L., 565, 568.

Swedish Gymnastics. Physical training and Swedish gymnastics, 390.

Syms, P. The treatment of prostatic hypertrophy, 667.

Syphilis. The transmission of syphilis to the lower animals, 552.

Tabes Dorsalis. On the treatment of pain in tabes dorsalis, report of a case, Lindström, A. H., 37.

Taylor, E. W. A case of polioencephalitis superior and inferior, with acute anterior poliomyelitis, 275.

Taylor, H. L. Retardation of growth as a cause of shortening after coxitis, 664.

Taylor, J. M. Exercises suitable for children suffering from heart disease, 574.

Taylor, R. T. Forcible correction of spinal curvatures followed by paralysis, 662.

Temperature. Some observations on human temperature in disease, Bridge, N., 550.

Tenement House. A model tenement house exhibition, 206; the tenement house and tuberculosis, Knopf, S. H., 233.

Tenney, B. Appendicitis in a hernial sac, 4, 12; anatomical specimens, 333.

Tetanus treated with antitetanic serum, Blake, J. D., 699.

Thayer, A. S. The discovery of the bacillus of influenza, 263.

Thayer, W. S. Cases of diarrhea associated with the presence of stronglus intestinalis in the stools, 548; etiology of malaria with special reference to mosquitoes, 641.

Thomson, W. H. Graves's disease without exophthalmic goitre, 550.

Thorndike, P. Clinical report of cases of infection due to the bacillus aërogenes capsulatus of Welch, 592.

Throat. Malignant disease of the nose and throat, Wright, J., 67.

Tonsil. Sarcoma of the tonsil, Porter, C. B., 297.

Townsend, C. W. Cyanosis from congenital cardiac disease, 426.

Townsend, R. W. Tendon transplantation in the treatment of paralytic deformities, 630.

Townsend, W. The treatment of tuberculosis of the knee-joint, 698.

Tracy, E. A. A lecture on surgical splinting, 206.

Treves, F. The war in South Africa, 151; Mr. Treves's estimate of women at the seat of war, 526.

Trudeau, E. L. Sanitarium treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis and its results, 544.

Tuberculosis. Sanitariums for tuberculosis, 149; local sanitariums for tuberculosis in New York State, 150; State care of tuberculous patients, 168; sanatoria for tuberculosis and prophylaxis, 230; the tenement house and tuberculosis, Knopf, S. H., 233; sanitarium treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis and its results, Trudeau, E. L., 544; report of certain cases of tuberculosis which were apparently due to the nature of the soil, Newton, R. C., 571; educational and legislative control of tuberculosis, Denison, C., 572; some phases of the tuberculosis problem in Colorado, Bonney, S. G., 572; the construction and management of small cottage sanatoria for consumptives, Klebs, A. C., 572; some personal observations on the effect of intrapleural injection of nitrogen gas in tuberculosis, Loomis, H. P., 573; stomach conditions in early tuberculosis, Reed, B., 573; subsequent history of patients apparently cured by antitubercle serum, Stubbert, J. E., 573; the phlebitis of advanced phthisis with report of cases of phthisis following abscesses of the hand, Curtin, R. C., 573; the diagnostic value of tuberculin in tuberculosis, Anders, J. M., 573; the hydriatic treatment of tuberculosis, Kellogg, J. H., 574; petroleum oil in the treatment of phthisis, Robinson, W. D., 574; stamina, the special benefit of fats of one kind or another as a necessary article of diet to fortify the system against tubercle bacilli, Bell, A. N., 574; compulsory notification of tuberculosis, 575; the treatment of tuberculosis of the knee-joint, Townsend, W., 698.

Tuttle, J. P. Result of surgery in the aged, 699.

Twombly, E. L. A case of pernicious vomiting of pregnancy, 510, 518.

Typhoid Fever. Typhoid inoculations, 122; typhoid fever and the water supply of Paris, 466; perichondritis of the larynx in typhoid fever, with exhibition of a patient and a specimen, Fussell, M. H.,

550; the attitude of the physician and surgeon to appendicular symptoms complicating typhoid fever, Hare, H. A., 550; a study of twenty-four cases of typhoid fever with symptoms of peritoneal infection, laparotomy, Shattuck, G. B., Warren, J. C., and Cobb, F., 677, 696.

Typhoid Spine, Lovett, R. W., and Withington, C. F., 317, 334.

Urinary System. Recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P., 63; malignancy in the female genito-urinary system, Baldwin, L. G., 66; stricture of the ureter a possible result of laceration of the cervix uteri, and ureterovaginal fistula a result of trachelorrhaphy, Dudley, E. C., 215, 228; perinephritic abscess involving the appendix, Williams, H., 222; bradycardia, with intermittent albuminuria, Whitridge, A. H., 329; a cystoscope, Pryor, W. R., 337; some points in the diagnosis and management of cystitis in the female, Brothers, A., 337; notes on diabetes: (1) on the occasional low specific gravity of diabetic saccharine urine; (2) on casts in the urine during diabetic coma, Herrick, J. B., 543; a communication on the relation of uric-acid secretion to epileptic attacks, Putnam, J. J., and Pfaff, F., 543; report of a case of acute ascending paralysis, showing hematoporphyrinuria, Stockton, C. G., 543; the origin of oxaluria from fermentation in the gastro-intestinal tract, Herter, C. A., 545; diagnosis of calculous disease of kidney, ureters and bladder by the x-rays, Leonard, C. L., 666; treatment of injuries of the ureter, Davis, B. B., 666; exstrophy of the bladder, with exhibition of a case, Vance, M., 667; surgical asepsis of the urethra and bladder, Valentine, F. C., 667; the treatment of prostatic hypertrophy, Syms, P., 667; the advantages of retained catheter, Eastman, J. R., 700; nephro-ureterocystectomy, Kelly, H. A., 700.

Vaccination. Compulsory vaccination in India, 75.

Valentine, F. C. Surgical asepsis of the urethra and bladder, 667.

Vance, M. Exstrophy of the bladder, with exhibition of a case, 667.

Van Gieson, I. Observations on appendicitis, 550.

Van Zwalenberg, C. Sarcoma of the intestines, 700.

Vaughan, V. C. Oration on State medicine, 631.

Vietor, A. C. A peculiar case of adenocarcinoma of the body of the uterus, 353; the question of supernumerary Fallopian tubes, with specimens of Fallopian tubes with supernumerary ostia, 513, 518.

Vivisection. Human vivisection, 172; vivisection in Harvard Medical School, a reply, Putnam, J. J., 209; some antivivisection "arguments," 231; closing statement for the remonstrants to the Massachusetts House Bill No. 917, entitled "an act for the further prevention of cruelty to animals," before the joint committee on probate and insolvency, March 15, 1900, Ernst, H. C., 619, 650.

Walker, E. W. Strangulated hernia through a traumatic rupture of the diaphragm, laparotomy, recovery, 608.

Walker, H. O. A retrospect of surgery of the stomach, 633.

Walsh, J. J. Rheumatism and the prevention of heart complications, 669.

Walton, G. L. Case of combined superior and inferior polioencephalitis, 109; case of acromegaly, 274; subcortical motor aphasia, 425.

Ward, G. O. A case of relapsing fever, 36.

Ward, R. de C. The relative humidity of our houses in winter, 217.

Warren, J. C. Allis's method of reducing a dislocation of the hip, 40; a dissection of the shoulder, explaining the action of Kocher's method, 40; resection of a portion of the liver for adenocarcinoma of the cystic duct, 276; fresh fractured patella, sutured with catgut through the periosteum, 276; two cases of rupture of quadriceps extensor tendon, 276; perforating gastric ulcer, operation, death, 428.

Wasdin, E. Yellow fever, its nature and causes, 640.

Watson, F. S. Hour-glass contraction of the stomach, 605.

Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P. Recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, 63.

Weir, R. F. Perforating ulcer of the stomach, 453; perforating ulcer of the duodenum, 603.

Welch, W. H. Venous thrombosis as a complication of cardiac disease, 549.

Wentworth, A. H. A system of clinical instruction, for the simultaneous instruction in small sections of a large number of students, 155; a consideration of the principal objections to "section teaching," together with some of its advantages, 566, 568.

Westbrook, F. F. Varieties of the diphtheria bacillus, 548.

White, J. W. The case method of teaching systematic medicine, 153.

Whitridge, A. H. Bradycardia with intermittent albuminuria, 329.

Willard, De F. Congenital cystic tumor of the pelvis, 608.

Williams, F. H. X ray examinations of the abdomen, 23; the value of x-ray examinations in the less frequent diseases of the chest illustrated by their use in those cases where aneurism is present or suspected, 54, 85; note on x-ray examinations of the lungs, 555.

Williams, H. Perinephritic abscess including the appendix, 222; a case of mural endocarditis, 574.

Wills, W. L. External drainage of superficial lung cavities, with report of two successful cases, 665.

Wilson, J. C. Serum therapy in croupous pneumonia, 639.

Winn, C. H. Bicornate uterus, with twin pregnancy, abortion from one horn, 511, 518.

Wood, H. C. Address on the United States Pharmacopeia, 487.

Wright, A. F., and Leishman, W. B. Typhoid inoculations, 122.

Wright, J. Malignant disease of the nose and throat, 67.

Wright, J. H. Report on progress in pathology, 253; the discovery of the influenza bacillus, 286; the organism and lesions of actinomycosis, 545.

Wyeth, J. A. Colostomy for permanent fecal fistula, 635.

Wyman, M. On medical education, 569.

Yellow Fever, its nature and causes, Wasdin, E., 640.